Jen Coffel the CEO of Engaging Speakers, a chapter-based organization that helps entrepreneurs speak their way to more business. Jen is a successful business coach, a best-selling author with four books, and a philanthropist.

With two decades of business experience, Jen built her first 4 businesses to 6 figures each, all in under a year and all in different industries. She has now helped over a thousand entrepreneurs build their businesses with many reaching 6-figure and 7-figure revenue. Jen has an innovative and down to earth speaking style audiences love.

Jen is most proud of founding her own international non-profit "Handing Hope" which brings comfort and smiles to children battling cancer in twelve states and three countries around the world. She has been featured on Inc.com, ABC News, and the Chicago Tribune. Jen has been mentored by speaking icons like Jack Canfield, Nick Vujicic, and Sandra Yancey, and has spoken on stage to over 10,000 people.
