Quotes from this episode:

“You can’t get sucked in to everything happening and to every event and every outrage, you’d be just under the bed all day. You have to pull up, observe, see the good things, see the bad things, and then make your decisions from there.”

“I want to give everyone permission to design, whatever you’re creating now or these changes that are in the world right now, use this time as a chance to re-design, just to fit you, if it never did.”

“If I’m feeling resentful, or creatively-starved, or a bit bored, that’s dangerous territory for me. That means need space to explore and have fun.”

“Overplanning and overcontrolling things never serve us.”

“As a woman, we have all these wonderful gifts on how we can lead.”

3 Pearls of Wisdom:

“If you’re feeling stuck right now, look at what you’re resisting. It’s going to lead you to the answer.”

“Remember who you are and where you came from. You have the magic, come back to its power.”

“Let’s remember to have fun again.”
